2. FURTHER ACTION

Re Item V.

1 Reference is made to the following document:

D1 : US 4 358 453 A (BRISTOL, JAMES A. ET AL) 9 November 1982 (1982-11-09)

—2) Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art, and has been described in the present specification on page 1, discloses (claims 1,8-12,16; example): 1,2,4-triazolo[4,3-a]pyridines which are useful in the treatment of peptic ulcer diseases.

The presently claimed subject matter, covering compounds of formula (1), differs from D1 in that the Ar-methylamino side chain, which is attached to the 8-position of the triazolo[4,3-a]pyridine ring system, and R2 which is attached to the 6-position of the latter ring system, is regarded as a novel selection from the claimed subject matter of D1.

Moreover novelty over D1 is established by the proviso of independent compound claim 1, excluding all possibly overlapping subject matter (Article 33(2) PCT).—

3) The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as the provision of further compounds which are useful as anti peptic ulcer agents.

The solution to this problem proposed in the present claims 1-12 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons:

There were no incentives from any of the available prior art to have in fixed position 6 the present specific substituent R2, in combination with the specific selection of the Ar-methylamino side chain, which is attached to the 8-position of the triazolo[4,3-a]-pyridine ring system.

The present compounds are useful as peptic ulcer agents and gastric acid secretion inhibitors.
